073009 STUFF We Love

by Stuff Boston | July 30, 2009

Looking hot for your coworkers really isn't high on your list of priorities (you've already scouted the office for cutie potential, and, sadly, there's nil to be found). When it's time to clock out though, you suddenly realize your I-have-no-one-to-impress-here appearance just won't do for an evening of post-9-to-5 debauchery. But all us office drones in search of a fast drab-to-fab fix are in luck: the creative minds at Naz Kupelian Salon (311 Woburn Street, Lexington, 781.676.7791) have just released the (O2)n Kit ($39.99). This office-to-night makeover kit is chock full of beauty basics (like bobby pins, hair elastics, mascara, moisturizer, and even a mini flat iron) and exclusive Naz Kupelian get-pretty products (like their "hair-to" emergency instruction manual and their No H2O dry shampoo — a godsend on those days when you press the snooze button a few too many times and miss your chance to shower). Ever the prince on a white horse to us damsels in distress, Mr. Kupelian (the brains behind the ingenious Emergency Elegance Team, a beauty SWAT team that you can call to your home day or night) knows that we busy worker bees may need a little help morphing into polished beauty queens. If Lexington isn't on the way to your night-out destination, plan ahead and stash your self-help kit in your desk drawer so that come closing time, you'll be set to transform from office drudge to dolled-up diva — and still make it in time for happy hour.
